

IMPERIAL LOGISTICS MOTION (PTY) LTD T/A LOWVELD BUS SERVICE

Introduction

Imperial Logistics Motion (Pty) Ltd t/a Lowveld Bus Service (LBS) is a Bus Company, specializing in Employee & Public Transport.

With a track record of more than 30 years, LBS currently holds contracts with the Department of Transport and various clients at the Medupi Power Station and Exxaro Grootgeluk Coal Mine.

With a fleet of more than 170 vehicles, LBS has the right vehicle to suit any client's transport needs.

These vehicles range from 14, 22, 30, 65, 80, and 114 Seater vehicles which are kept and maintained at our duly accredited depot workshops in Lephalale.

Our proven track record, along with in depth knowledge of the region and community, make us your number one choice in transport.

Background

The Company was founded by Louis Rossel and Garnet van der Walt in October 1983. The dormant company name Laeveld Bus Diens was bought by Thaba Nchu Transport as well as 20 permits to operate a passenger service in the then, Ellisras area.

The first busses were bought from SA Transport in Kimberly and brought to Ellisras. A very small depot was established on a plot on the outskirts of town which consisted of two rondawels and no proper workshop. In 1989 a better equipped depot was built in Onverwacht, Ellisras to accommodate the growth and to sustain a reliable and safe service. In 1990 Lowveld Bus Service was awarded a contract by the then Iscor mine to convey passengers to the Grootegeluk Coal Mine and back.

The demand for transport also grew over the years as the town started expanding. In 1998 the Department of Roads and Transport put out a kilometre based tender for transport in the area and it was awarded to Lowveld Bus Service. In 2001 one of the owners Garnet Van der Walt was bought out and a new company Buthotis Trading (Pty)Ltd t/a Lowveld Bus Service was registered by the remaining founder, Louis Rossel.

In August 2019 the trading name, Lowveld Bus Service along with all the assets were bought by Imperial Logistics, and a new Company, Imperial Logistics Motion (Pty) Ltd t/a Lowveld Bus Service was registered.

Throughout its history, the Company and its Employees have remained true to the LBS vision of providing safe, reliable and affordable transport for all.
